

Financials

While donations have been relatively consistent with previous years, there has been no opportunity for face-to-face fundraising events due to COVID restrictions. We have continued to have the support of long-time and generous donors, but have identified only two new donors in 2020. Card sales continue to be an important source of revenue but expanding the donor base and renewed fund raising activities are needed to meet rising expenses.

Our Goal

To support AIDS orphans by providing them access to education.

In 2020 CANHAVE supported:

- 32 primary students
- 49 secondary students
- 4 vocational school students

Our Mission

CANHAVE supports the education of AIDS-affected orphans in Uganda, focusing on primary school and responding to the needs of each child.

CANHAVE program report 2020

For everyone around the world 2020 will be known as the year of the pandemic. It is no different for CANHAVE and our students. We are fortunate that not one student thus far has tested positive, but there have of course been challenges.

We started 2020 with 85 students: 32 primary, 49 secondary and 4 in the vocational school. Several were gearing up for final exams. Then COVID hit. All schools were closed as of April 1, with no indication of reopening before 2021. CANHAVE transported the children safely home. In the end, schools did reopen in October 2020 for those students who had O level exams in 2020. All students were back in school by 22 March, 2021.

During lock down, the Ugandan government promised learning through TV, radio and E-learning but our students lack internet or devices to access these options.

Daily newspapers containing educational material were too expensive as well. In addition to schools closing, prices for commodities rose, making it that much harder for families to cope and the students represented one more mouth to feed. Students helped out in their families' shops and trades to make ends meet.

CANHAVE responded to these challenges by providing over $10,000 to source, prepare and distribute educational materials to our students, and by purchasing day old newspapers with the educational content. Our extraordinary volunteers in Uganda had to travel great distances to monitor the students' welfare at home and to deliver resource material. Attempts were made to hire teachers as counsellors to assist in home learning but this proved to be too expensive.

With the return to school, in addition to school fees, children will require support for personal protective equipment for the foreseeable future, adding to the cost of support.

Uganda since Independence

History

Uganda gained its independence from Great Britain in 1962. Through much of its history as an independent nation, Ugandans have suffered, first through the brutal regime of Idi Amin killing or exiling hundreds of thousands and then a long and bloody civil war followed by an HIV/AIDS epidemic that killed hundreds of thousands more and orphaned many young children. Today, 1.6 million Ugandans are living with HIV—11% are children under 15 years of age (UNICEF).

The present context

GDP per capita has risen from $262 in 2000 to $794 in 2019. Planning and financing of a standard gauge railway from Mombasa in Kenya is well advanced. Trade barriers are being reduced due to the new common market among six East African nations. Recently discovered oil will begin flowing soon. The HIV infection rate in the general population has dropped from approximately 15% to 6%.

Needs are still great

HIV/AIDS is ever present, and Uganda has one of lowest literacy rates in the world. Education standards and funding lag and primary health care is unavailable to most. Malaria still claims thousands. The future of Uganda's children remains insecure.

With your generous donations, CANHAVE is doing its part to make a difference in the lives of children affected by HIV/AIDS and by the lack of access to quality education.
